

Studios & Rehearsal Spaces

The Mulryan Centre for Dance, home of English National Ballet

Our creative spaces at the Mulryan Centre for Dance offer the perfect venue to bring creative visions to life.

Winner of the RIBA National Award for Architecture 2021, the building is home to English National Ballet and offers production, rehearsal and event facilities. Our building is just a 5-minute tube journey from Canary Wharf, 3-minute walk from Canning Town, and has easy vehicular access.

With many large contemporary spaces, and a Production Studio including a full fly tower, the English National Ballet at London City Island offers state of the art spaces to create and showcase.

Holloway Production Studio

The Holloway Production Studio is a blank canvas space, that is ideal for award ceremonies, conferences, larger dinners and immersive brand activations.

The studio is also perfect for technical rehearsals and sharing's and is often used alongside rehearsal studio hires. The floor-space mimics some of London's largest theatres such as the Coliseum and the Royal Albert Hall.

The space includes retractable bleacher seating for up to 175, a full height fly tower, and can be segmented to allow for separate plenary and catering spaces.

Crazy for You – Michael Harrison Productions

“The Mulryan Centre for Dance is a great venue. The spaces themselves are well sized and fit for purpose, with multiple smaller utility spaces, a large goods lift and cafe on site. However, the jewel in the crown of this venue is the team behind it; they work tirelessly to ensure a smooth and successful event and will do as much as they are able to make your event to your individual requirements. I would highly recommend this venue.”
